

Statistical Consulting Services

The Statistical Consulting Services (SCS) in the Department of Mathematics and Statistics is located in Whitney Hall (WH). The mission of the SCS is three-fold: to provide collaborative research assistance to faculty, research staff, and graduate students in all departments of Binghamton University; to promote the growth of research collaborations between faculty from SCS and other units of the university; and to stimulate approaching research in more quantifiable ways.

The SCS is directed by Dr. Mei-Hsiu Chen and offers the following services:

- Statistical consultations on study designs, analysis methods, and results interpretations.
- Collaborations on data analysis, results dissemination, and publications.
- Proposal writings of the statistical components.

Statistical Consultation Service Request Forms:

Please fill out the Request for Statistical Consultation Appointment. Someone from SCS will get in touch with you shortly.
